Dear comrade,

Study Course on Capital, volume 1

London AWL will be running a study course on Marx's Capital, volume 1, between 10 October and 12 December.

Details, and web links to the reading and study notes, are available on <http://www.workersliberty.org/node/view/3047>.

The course is ten sessions, run over ten weeks. It is so designed that it can be followed by reading Otto Rühle's abridgement of Capital volume 1 (about four or five pages of reading each week), though of course we encourage participants to read Marx's full original text. Copies of Rühle's text are available from the AWL, price £1.50 post free, and it can also be downloaded (free) from a link given at <http://www.workersliberty.org/node/view/3047>.

The emphasis in each session is on discussion and participation, rather than just a lecture.

Each session in the course will be repeated three times (Sunday midday, Sunday evening, and Monday evening) so that the maximum number of people can follow the course. You may normally choose to attend on a Sunday midday, for example, but if one week that is difficult for you, you can take the Monday evening session that particular week. Or vice versa.

The course will run from session 1 on Sunday 10 October and Monday 11 October through to session 10 on Sunday 12 December and Monday 13 December.

Sunday midday sessions: noon to 1.30pm at 67 Grayson House, Radnor St, off Old St, London EC1.

Sunday evening sessions: 8pm to 9.30pm at The Ship, junction of Borough Road, Borough High St, and Newington Causeway, London SE1. On 17 October and 14 November the Sunday evening sessions are at a different place: The Anchor Tap, Horselydown Lane, near the south end of Tower Bridge.

Monday evening sessions: 6.30pm to 8pm in the basement of the Camera Cafe, 44, Museum St, London, WC1.

Registration for the course costs £10 (to cover room hire, copying costs, and so on). Please pay online at <http://www.workersliberty.org/node/view/3047> or send a cheque, payable to AWL, to the address above.

To register, please fill in the form overleaf and return it to the address above, or email us at office@workersliberty.org, or phone 020 7207 3997.

Thanks,
Martin Thomas
