reproductive freedoms teach-in

• We will be discussing ideas and planning action for a woman's right to choose on 12 April, 12-5pm at Clement House Building, London School of Economics, London, WC2A (Holborn tube).
Every woman should have a real right to choose, whether to have, or not to have, a child. This event is aimed at all pro-choice feminists, trade unionists, students, school students and others. Sessions include: • how to campaign • imperial motherhood • making the pro-choice case effectively • the attacks we face • planning for a national day of action.
The event is free and you can turn up on the day, but it's helpful if you pre-register. To do so or for more information email rebecca.galbraith@yahoo.co.uk or ring 07971 719 797
