

A day of discussion and organising hosted by the Alliance for Workers' Liberty

Capitalist crisis, workers' response

21 March 2009, 11am-5.30pm, School of Oriental and African Studies, Thornhaugh Street, Russell Square, London WC1H

As capitalism's crisis spreads and deepens, the bosses are seeking to make the working class bear the costs. Come and discuss why this crisis is happening, what it means for workers and the oppressed getting organised to fight back - and the possibilities for socialism.

Introductory sessions:

- Why capitalism creates crises and what they mean for class struggle
- How American workers used the crisis of the 1930s to fight and win
- Crisis and climate change - with Workers' Climate Action activist Louise Gold
- Women's liberation in the crisis - with Feminist Fightback activist Rebecca Galbraith
- Student struggles across Europe - with a student activist from France's New Anti-capitalist Party and Koos Couvee of Education Not for Sale

Labour movement-focused sessions:

- The fight for jobs, and against the use of subcontracting to undermine jobs and conditions, including discussion of the recent construction walk outs
- Migrant workers organising
- Building trade union rank-and-file movements: the experience of the Labor Notes project in the US, with American socialist activist and former Labor Notes director Kim Moody
- Class struggle in Iraq: report back from 13-14 March union conference in Kurdistan

Followed by a social with the Ruby Kid and other artists

Facebook event "Capitalist crisis, workers' response"

For more information or to register
email awl@workersliberty.org or ring 07796 690 874

*A day of discussion and organising hosted
by the Alliance for Workers' Liberty*

Capitalist crisis, workers' response

21 March 2009, 11am-5.30pm, School of Oriental and African
Studies, Thornhaugh Street, Russell Square, London WC1H

*As capitalism's crisis spreads and deepens, the bosses are seeking to make the working class bear the costs. Come and discuss why this crisis is happening, what it means for workers and the oppressed getting
organised to fight back - and the possibilities for socialism.*

Introductory sessions:

- Why capitalism creates crises and what they mean for class struggle
- How American workers used the crisis of the 1930s to fight and win
- Crisis and climate change - with Workers' Climate Action activist Louise Gold
- Women's liberation in the crisis - with Feminist Fightback activist Rebecca Galbraith
- Student struggles across Europe - with a student activist from France's New Anti-capitalist Party and Koos Couvee of Education Not for Sale

Labour movement-focused sessions:

- The fight for jobs, and against the use of subcontracting to undermine jobs and conditions, including discussion of the recent construction walk outs
- Migrant workers organising
- Building trade union rank-and-file movements: the experience of the Labor Notes project in the US, with American socialist activist and former Labor Notes director Kim Moody
- Class struggle in Iraq: report back from 13-14 March union conference in Kurdistan

Followed by a social with the Ruby Kid and other artists

Facebook event "Capitalist crisis, workers' response"

For more information or to register
email awl@workersliberty.org or ring 07796 690 874